HOW M'SWIGGIN DIED IS TOLD

Italy to Keep Arms, Mussolini Says

DEMANDS TOTAL DISARMAMENT OR NONE AT ALL

Scoffs at Nations' Fraternal Spirit.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Rome, May 28.—Italy has no intention of disarming until disarmament is complete on land, sea, and air. Italy's imperialism is not explosive imperialism, which prepares for war, but a phenomenon of the moral dignity of the Italian people. The Fascist government pursues a peaceful policy and does not intend to disturb the peace of the world, but its desire for peace does not mean disarmament.

With these words Premier Mussolini summed up Italy's foreign policy today in a long speech before the Italian senate, occasioned by the approval of the Locarno treaties and discussion of the budget for the ministry of foreign affairs. He began with a discussion of the Locarno treaties, explaining why Italy accepted the task of guaranteeing with France and England the provisions of the pact. He declared Germany would soon become a member of the league of nations and Italy wished the adherence of this former enemy to the league.

Small Faith in Nations' Promises.
From these questions Premier Mussolini rapidly led up to the question of disarmament. Italy, he indicated, has small faith in professions of fraternal spirit among nations. Even nations with a long line of liberal traditions have buried and forgotten such idealistic professions.

Fascism has had to settle all the problems of foreign policy which the governments of the past have left unsolved, he said. "The foreign policy of the Fascist government was assured in due time."

He turned to a discussion of the Russo-German treaty as it affects European relations. He declared the spirit of Locarno was praiseworthy, but "there is no doubt that the treaty recently signed between Germany and Russia at Berlin has dimmed the splendor of the spirit of Locarno."

Wants Germany in League.
"We must not exaggerate the importance of this treaty, but neither should we bury our heads in the sand. The treaty of Berlin between Germany and Russia is a very serious matter and requires attentive meditation."

Cast Doubt on Evangelist's Death in Sea

Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—(AP)—The end of the tenth day since the disappearance of the Venice beach of Almes Temple McPherson, evangelist of Angeles temple, found no sign of a body cast upon the shore to support her followers' theory of drowning.

The end of the day also found no definite action by police, sheriff, or district attorneys to set at rest the myriad of rumors connected with the mystery, among them a belief that she was dead but would be resurrected by supernatural powers.

The entire Los Angeles district appears to be divided. One faction, claiming principally of her followers, contending that Mrs. McPherson went to her death in the sea, the other faction offers a multitude of theories in support of its argument that the evangelist still is alive.

Former City Expert Gets Term in Jail

Federal Judge Adams' Cliffe yesterday sentenced William S. Adams, brother of Municipal Judge Asa Adams, to serve 30 days in the Du Page county jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 for false representations in his income tax returns for 1919 and 1921 through which he is alleged to have defrauded the government of $130,000.

Adams formerly was president of the Adams-Francois Realty corporation, which during the Thompson administration is said to have collected more than $100,000 for appraisal work in connection with the Chicago Surface Lines.

This is the first penalty to be imposed in the series of income tax cases involving various persons paid large fees as experts during the Thompson regime.

5 WOMEN DIE IN EXPLOSION, FIRE AT ROCKFORD

Trapped by Flames in Factory.

Rockford, Ill., May 28.—(AP)—Five women were killed and eight persons seriously injured by a fire which trapped them in a building occupied by the Nathan Toy shop, a concern dealing in automobile accessories.

There were thirteen women working on the second floor of the building when a quantity of celluloid on the first floor exploded. Some of the women then jumped. Some succeeded in making their way down the only stairway, which was filled with smoke and flames.

Fire failed to get down and their bodies were found by firemen when they fought their way to the second floor. Every employee of the concern, which included several men, was burned by the first blast of flame from the celluloid.

The explosion was caused by a static spark that flew out of a window, which was in a room where the celluloid was being stored. The bodies have been identified as those of:

- Mildred Cramer.
- Mrs. Mary Little.
- Helen Mamala.
- Alice Marston.
- Mary Wallace.

Mrs. Little's body was identified by her husband, the father of eight children. The bodies supposed to be those of Miss Cramer and Miss Naretta have not been absolutely identified.

Paid $1,200 to Flee Joliet, He Declares

How a gambler paid $1,200 to flee Joliet, Ill., and was allowed to make good of being imprisoned, where he was serving a sentence for murder, was told by Thomas Ivers, who was arrested early this morning after a chase through most of the state streets in Joliet.

Recognized by Detective
At first Ivers gave his name as Thomas Sullivan, but when he reached the detective bureau he was identified as Ivers, alias James Murphy, who was sent to jail for the robbery of a safe and a car of an $8,000 payroll in 1924.

At that time he had a long record as a criminal. Under questioning Ivers admitted his identity. In December, 1924, Ivers killed James C. Washburn, a convict, with whom he had an argument in a cell house. He was tried in Will county and convicted of murder and sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary on Aug. 28, 1925. He escaped and has been sought ever since.

Tells How He Escaped
According to Ivers' story, after his conviction on the murder charge, he obtained the services of a gambler whom he would not name, and $1,200 was raised to effect his release. After the arrangements were made, Ivers said, he stole clothes from the prison tailor shop, donned them and walked out of the penitentiary in a line of visitors who were being lined up.

Barris, who was arrested with Ivers, also has a prison record and was serving time in Joliet when Ivers was there. Barris was paroled in 1919.

Agree to Pay Increase
This agreement was for a new shop conditions and a pay increase from the existing $1.50 an hour rate to $1.50 an hour on Oct. 1. The carpenters' agreements were negotiated with representatives of the Building Trades Council, George A. Fuller company, Thompson Street, Home Senk, R. C. Winkhold, Avery Brundage, E. E. Davis company, the W. J. Newman company, and the Longacre Construction company.

While the majority of building trades have failed so far to make agreements with the Building Construction Employees' union, it is expected that they will strike next Monday night, it was said that practically all of them will continue work after June 1 until new wage pacts are made.

O'DONNELLS EXPLAIN WHY HE WAS IN CAR

Aiding a Friend. They Testify.

William H. McSwiggin, the hanging prosecutor, went to his death because he sought to aid a friend, according to revelations yesterday. The tale told by McSwiggin, O'Donnell, and O'Donnell's brother, in the special grand jury.

Their testimony swept away the mystery and veiled insinuations from McSwiggin's connection with the case. But it brought the authorities no closer to a discovery of who were the murderers of McSwiggin, James J. Doherty, beer runner, and Thomas Duffy, barber politician.

Hunted Best for Friend
A bullet proof vest, which McSwiggin was seeking to return to its only maker, his friend, and which had found its way into the possession of Doherty, caused the young prosecutor to enlist Duffy's aid in seeking out the beer runner and obtaining the vest. That was it, substance the O'Donnell sum-up of McSwiggin's association in the case. Verification was received from other sources.

The O'Donnell brothers told their stories unwillingly, after having been assured they would go to jail if they remained defiant. When they had done, State's Attorney Crook declared he was far from satisfied and that he was positive the two beer runners had lied on the principal points of their testimony.

Both men admitted they were in the automobile which had carried the murdered men to Chicago. But they swore they both left it before the shooting, and that is where they had, as riding to the best public information. Their has it positively that Myles was in the car, although Klondike probably was not.

Tell of Mysterious Men
They told how two mysterious men, only one of whom they could name, and that was a Joseph McCarthy, had joined the party. And how these two men, surviving the battle in which McSwiggin, Doherty, and Duffy died, had brought the body of the prosecutor inside the kitchen of the home of Klondike O'Donnell, at 122 South Parkside avenue. The O'Donnell hosted the two mysterious men not again, with their grievous burden, and had left them alone in the kitchen and the yard outside. Then the O'Donnell, fearing they might be implicated in some way, fled.

CHICAGO FRIENDS RETURN FIRE OF WATERWAY FOES

Prove Project Benefits All and Harms None.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 28.—(Special)—From invocation to adjournment the oratorical big guns roared in the house today over the proposition of authorizing improvement of the lower Illinois river and thereby completing the lakes to the gulf deep waterway.

Representatives Burton (Rep., Ohio), Mays (Rep., Ohio), and Hooper (Rep., Mich.) were the chief opponents of the project. Burton (Rep., Ohio), Mays (Rep., Ohio), and Hooper (Rep., Mich.) were the chief opponents of the project. Burton (Rep., Ohio), Mays (Rep., Ohio), and Hooper (Rep., Mich.) were the chief opponents of the project.

MARTIN B. MADDEN

Defend Waterway Project.

Defending the midwestern project to gain access to the sea and reduce freight cost to farmers and other producers, Representative Madden (Rep., Ill.) today in the house of representatives fought the authorization of the project that it would necessitate continued diversion of water from Lake Michigan. By these legislators, Chicago was accused of a multitude of crimes ranging from theft of lake water to lobbying a pork barrel river and harbor measure.

Lake Water Kept Pure.

Then up stood white haired Martin Madden and grimly answered the venerable Ohio member.

"There is one thing we are not doing," said Mr. Madden. "We are not letting our sewage go into the lake, and that is something none of these other people can say. They are letting their sewage go into the lake. We do not want to contaminate the lake, and if you change the course of the river to the lake you might as well move Chicago, and all that section of the country in which we live will go to dry rot, because you cannot keep people where they cannot live and breathe."

Ask a Mere Bagatelle.

"We are proposing an appropriation of $1,350,000 out of the federal treasury to enlarge the navigation facilities of the Illinois river, a bagatelle. It is the first thing Illinois has come before the congress to ask. We have not been avaricious in our demands. We pay into the treasury of the United States about 9 per cent of all of the revenue paid into it. We are glad to do it. I wish it were more."

"Rivers and harbors can be improved only where they exist. We ask for the improvement of the Illinois river because it is there and because it is the great connecting link in our inland waterways between the Mississippi river system and the great lakes, and we ask it because by its improvement we will afford facilities for the transportation of the products of the factories and the farms at a cheaper rate than the railroad companies now accord.

Burton and Trinity River.

"I recall days when Burton, as chairman of rivers and harbors committee, approved improvement of Trinity river for which they were compelled to sink Artisan wells in order to get water for navigation. The gentleman's judgment could not have been very good then or else it is very bad now."

Representative Hull cited the government engineers' report to show that the Chicago diversion has lowered lake levels only 5 1/2 inches, while 8 inches of the drop are due to improvement of the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, 3 inches to Lake Superior regulating works for power purposes, 2 inches to diversion at Niagara Falls for power and canal purposes, and 2 inches to diminished rainfall. Mr. Hull then sketched the benefits of the proposed Mississippi Valley water way system.

RUSSELL BARRED ON REQUEST OF IRISH FREE STATE

(Special)—In the New York Times, London, May 28.—The refusal of the British immigration authorities to allow Charles Edward Russell, American Socialist leader and writer, to land at Plymouth yesterday was partially cleared up today.

His wife disembarked at Queenstown and went to Dublin, but Mr. Russell was not allowed to land because Free State authorities suspected him of planning to spread anti-Free State views, and he went on to Plymouth. He was previously refused permission to land at Plymouth on the Free State's request, but was told a home office official said today, that a final decision would be given at Southampton. The official said he would have been permitted to land if he had promised to keep out of the Free State.

H. S. BOYS WIN IN COURT, BUT NOT AT SCHOOL

Oak Park Case Hinges on the Appeal.

After a week of litigation, the Oak Park high school students' victory in court was not enough to win them the right to return to school. The students, who were expelled from school for refusing to wear uniforms, won their case in court, but the school board refused to accept the court's decision.

The students' attorneys, who were represented by the Chicago Bar Association, argued that the school board's decision was arbitrary and capricious. They claimed that the students had no obligation to wear uniforms and that the school board's decision was a violation of the students' rights.

The school board, on the other hand, argued that the uniform rule was a reasonable and necessary part of the school's discipline. They claimed that the students' refusal to wear uniforms was a deliberate act of defiance and that the school board had no choice but to expel them.

The case is now pending appeal. The students' attorneys are hoping that the appellate court will rule in their favor, which would allow them to return to school.

Wait for Higher Court.

Attorneys for the board maintained that because an appeal is being taken from Judge Lindsay's order, the boys are not entitled to return to school until a higher court makes a decision in the case. If their stand is upheld, the expelled students are automatically barred from graduation in June, since the Appellate court cannot hear the case for several months.

There was no delay of the court hearing about the issuance of the reinstatement order. The school board attorneys decided to stand by their demand, which was overruled at Thursday's hearing. Stripped of legal philosophy, they expressed attitude against even if all they say in their suit is true, they have no right to take legal action. Thus, all that remained for the judge to do was to sign the order and allow an appeal.

Scotts Bluff, Neb., May 28. (AP)—Farmers dependent upon the North Platte valley interstate irrigation project are reported to be growing more indignant concerning the reclamation commissioner's refusal to furnish water, and the situation tonight had assumed an ominous aspect.

Some leaders, although hopeful of timely agreement, fear the more radical farmers will resort to violence which was indicated last night. The controversy is over payments of operation and maintenance costs.

ARMOUR TALKS OF HIS SHARE IN ST. PAUL AFFAIRS

Denies Advance Tip on Receivership.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY

John Armour and Charles H. McRider of Mason City, Iowa, directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, were the chief witnesses yesterday at the Interstate Commerce commission inquiry into the underlying causes of the $2,936,000 receivership for that railroad.

They were examined by Attorney Walter L. Fisher, special counsel for the commission and by Daniel M. Grady, representing the attorney general of Wisconsin, with Commissioner Frederick L. Cox presiding at the sessions at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

McRider is the father of Sanford McRider, assistant secretary of war.

Armour's Byram's Spouse

Mr. Armour testified that at the time he owned 115,000 shares of the railroad stock and that he was the director who suggested H. E. Byram as president in 1901 to take the place of his father, the late P. D. Armour. At that time William Lockfeller was one of the chief figures in control of the road.

Byram was a member of the committee to choose a new president, who took office Oct. 1, 1917.

Questioned by Mr. Fisher, Mr. Armour said that he was elected to the board in 1901 to take the place of his father, the late P. D. Armour. At that time William Lockfeller was one of the chief figures in control of the road.

of the pageant was laid in much know-out, near Waverly road. Robertson, as the stand-up on the platform, played to the audience, he depicted the Indians for the Duns their sorrow at leaving it, with upturned arms he called to the audience to show his love for and their beloved home, the Duns, and then stood, with arms, awaiting an answer.

Is it still possible for some to be done in this matter? Mrs. C. T. WILLIAMS.

SPRAGUE GIVES RULES FOR KEEPING STREETS CLEAN THIS SUMMER

Asking the help of every citizen in keeping the city clean during conventions that will bring millions of visitors here this summer, Commissioner of Public Works Sprague issued four rules yesterday he hopes the public will observe. They are:

1. Do not throw waste paper or light rubbish in the streets and alleys. One newspaper separated by the wind will litter a whole neighborhood. Use the proper receptacles.

2. Do not sweep out streets onto the sidewalk and street. Sweep up and sweepings and put into receptacles.

3. Do not overload wagons & trucks so the contents will drop on the pavement.

4. Remember that a large part of the litter that goes into streets, alleys and vacant lots is thrown there carelessly. Be careful.

Mr. Armour could not recall any details of the Puget Sound extension, electrification or power contracts. He said he was a member of the executive or special committee.

"When did you first learn that a receivership was impending?" he was asked.

Mr. Armour placed that date as the board meeting in New York when the receivership plan was adopted, March 17, 1925.

Reduces Stock Holdings

Mr. Armour said he had little direct information regarding the acquisition of the Terre Haute or Gary lines. He said he had told Armour & Co., however, to give what business it could to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, where that was justified. He asserted that he held 40,000 shares of that road stock until three or four years ago.

Since then he has held only 100. Mr. Grady called attention to Mr. Armour's directorship in the Continental and Commercial bank and asked if he knew that the Terre Haute line was a part of the assets of the John H. Walsh estate. Mr. Armour said that generally was known.

"And did you know that when the Walsh bank failed the Continental and Commercial bank acquired an interest in the Terre Haute road?" Mr. Grady asked.

"I have no direct knowledge. I assume that to be the case," was the reply. Mr. Armour did not know at what price the Terre Haute bonds were selling prior to the acquisition of that road by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Mr. Armour said his largest holding of that road's stock was about 150,000 shares. Mr. Armour denied that he had acquired a large block of stock to influence the selection of a new president of the road, adding he had sold most of it to day.

Asked About Stock Sales

Mr. Armour was asked the price and the date of the disposal of his stock. O. W. Dynes, chief counsel for the railroad, objected. Mr. Grady said he wanted to know why certain directors of the St. Paul sold large holdings of stock to the public when they had intimate knowledge of the financial affairs of the road and knew the receivership was impending.

Mr. Grady asked if the change in the presidency was made because of a serious financial condition.

"That is always the reason for a change in any company," Mr. Armour said.

Mr. McNider said he became a director at the request of Mr. Byram.

KLANSMAN, FOE OF VICTIM, HELD IN BOMB KILLING

Girl Follows Father and Fiance to Death.

Muskegon, Mich., May 28.—(Special)—Officials of Muskegon county today discovered circumstantial evidence which they believe points to Asa K. Bartlett, a minor political figure in Blue Lake township, as the person who mailed a bomb which exploded in the Three Lakes tavern on Thursday and caused the deaths of a young woman, her father, and her fiancé.

Bartlett, who is under arrest, was a fanatic on prohibition, a Klansman and an enemy of August Kruebach, proprietor of the tavern and a township supervisor. Kruebach died two hours after the explosion in a hospital. His prospective son-in-law, William Frank of Chicago, was killed instantly by the blast. Janet Kruebach, who was to have become Frank's bride tomorrow died this morning.

Old Trigger Is Cited

Most agrarian of the clans in the hands of Prosecution R. Glenn Dunn, an old-fashioned rifle found in the home of Bartlett. The trigger is missing and the officials point out that a trigger which fits the rifle was imbedded in the body of Kruebach.

After Bartlett, who is a blacksmith and stump shooter, had denied under swilling that he sent the bomb his in quitors laid before him a sack of evidence they had gathered.

They made him admit that his hand writing and that found on the packet of death were identical, that he owned and was familiar with dynamite, that he had purchased a parcel post label in Montague Monday, which corresponded with the one on the bomb package that he had been in Muskegon Wednesday night when the explosive was mailed from here, and that he harbored a grudge against Kruebach.

Denies His Guilt.

But after these admissions Bartlett denied his guilt and insisted his enmity extended no further than opposing Kruebach politically.

Late today Bartlett was taken to view the bodies of the three bomb victims. He displayed no emotion.

A constable in the township of which Kruebach was supervisor, Bartlett was greatly disappointed when the latter was overwhelmingly elected over Mrs. Jennie Norton. A year before Mrs. Norton had defeated the tavern keeper by a single vote. Bartlett admitted that religious bitterness had developed during the campaign.

Janet Kruebach had been planning for weeks for her wedding, which was to be held in a Catholic church at 10 a. m. tomorrow. A letter which she wrote to her fiancé a few days ago, when he was in Chicago, contained the names of 100 guests who were to attend the wedding breakfast. Most of them were from Chicago, where the Kruebach family formerly lived.

Heavy Milk Drinkers Get Brains of Cow, Doctor Says

LONDON, May 28.—(Special)—A milk as food was condemned today by the international vegetarian congress. Dr. Stavros Demopolis of Greece declared he had made experiments for two years. These showed any one indulging in large quantities of cow's milk developed the brains and mentality of a cow.

CHURCH REPORT REBUKES HARSH DOCTRINAL TALK

Presbyterians to Declare for Tolerance.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
Baltimore, Md., May 28.—[Special.]
Tolerance and evil speaking were rebuffed in the report of the special committee of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, appointed last year to study "The Presbyterian Spiritual Condition of the Presbyterian Church and the Causes Making for Unrest." The report was made today to the general assembly and read by Dr. H. C. Swain, of Minneapolis, chairman.

Involved in the report is the question of the fundamentalist movement, and the report is the first since 1919 to be so comprehensive.

The findings of the report were presented to the assembly. The committee had been organized for an annual report for the further study of the subject, especially of the constitutional question.

Hits at Church Controversy.
Among the principal causes for unrest, the report is a paragraph which is called for bad appraisals of the church and its members.

The report declared the constitutional question to be the most important of the church's problems.

Committee Unanimous.
Fundamentalists of the most pronounced type, like Dr. Mark A. Matthews of Seattle and Dr. McArthur of Berkeley, Cal., the defeated candidate for moderator, were among the committee, and none of them is known as an extreme modernist, although some of them refuse to label themselves either fundamentalists or modernists, are classed as modernists
by the fundamentalists—for example, Dr. W. O. Thompson, the new moderator; Dr. Robert E. Spier, New York; and Prof. Alfred H. Barr, of McCormick Theological seminary, Nathan G.
Moore of Oak Park was one of the committee.

A constitutional question discussed before in the continuing rights of the general assembly and the presbytery, which was the chief complaint last year by the New York presbytery, which claimed the right to determine the fitness of candidates for the ministry.

The final statement of the commission reaffirming belief in the Virgin birth of Christ, the hope of the New York presbytery, declared Dr.
Clarence E. Macartney in a statement later in the day.

FUNDAMENTALISTS ARE DEFEATED AT BAPTIST CONVENTION

Washington, D. C., May 28.—[Special.]
The ultra-fundamentalist faction of the Northern Baptist convention suffered an overwhelming defeat today when the ticket for officers of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society was elected in which there was a content was defeated, 199 to 49.

The winning ticket was headed by former Gov. Carl E. Miller of Maine and represented the moderate group of the convention.

The Rev. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher of Oakland, Cal., was elected today
as president of the convention.
The convention accepted, against opposition, the election of five tickets for the convention and various societies, but the fundamentalists put a slate of their own in the field for the American Baptist Foreign Mission society.
Besides Dr. Brougher, tickets were named for these societies as follows:
American Baptist Home Mission society, F. H. Weaver, Dayton, O.; Woman's American Baptist Home Mission society, Mrs. George W. Olenar, Boston; American Baptist Publication society, the Rev. John S. Cleveland, Cleveland; Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission society, Mrs. Herbert E. Goodman, Chicago.

NEW YORK DRYS DEMAND DEFEAT OF WADSWORTH

One York, May 28.—[Special.]—The dry of New York formally declared today that they would not support
Wadsworth
without a trace.

Following a conference of various prohibition groups, Greville S. Pol-
land, counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, announced
that the Wadsworth would enter a candidate in the race
against Mr. Wadsworth, who seeks renomination at the hands of the Republican party.

The question of naming independent candidates for governor and for other offices was left in abeyance. The dry spokesman, however, made it plain that their group would not be diverted from attacking their ally, the C. O.
P., by any specious plea to concentrate upon the run referendum.

Dr. Leigh Colvin, chairman of the prohibition, national committee, announced the drys would prefer a Democratic senator to Mr. Wadsworth.
"A Democrat would be less dangerous," he said, "because a Democrat would be in the minority in Washington."

WET CAMPAIGN OF BRENNAN TO START JUNE 8

Nominee to Get Jump in Downstate Districts.

Instead of taking things easy until fall, as has been customary with such candidates, George E. Brennan, Democratic nominee for United States senator, will open his downstate campaign ten days from now.

On June 8 he will be in Freeport to meet the Democratic county chairmen and other leaders of that congressional district, the Fifteenth. Two days later, June 10, he will be in Aurora for a similar roundup of the leaders in the Eleventh district. Other dates for other congressional districts are to be set soon.

These meetings, he said, "are primarily conferences concerning the situation in the territory represented, but of course I shall not miss the opportunity of making clear my exact position on the issue of Volsteadism.
For that reason I probably shall make some informal speeches and point out the evidence of victory ahead of me."

PICK COMMITTEE FOR DEDICATING SOLDIERS' FIELD

Plan Ceremony at Time of Army-Navy Game.

Members of the executive group of Chicago's committee for the dedication of Soldiers' Field at the time of the Army-Navy football game here in November were named yesterday by Mayor Dwyer and Edward J. Kelly, president of the seventh park board.

The committee will have charge of all arrangements for the entertain-

JARDINE WILL TALK HERE ON PRICES OF GRAIN

riculture, has accepted an appointment as a faculty member of the will be here to conduct his class work on June 11.

He is one of the twenty who are to ilege of attending the four day school.

The students are coming from forty

GO TO BED EARLY AND SAVE COAL, LONDONERS TOLD

Fuel Shortage Puts Out
Many Street Lights.

LONDON, May 28.—(By the New York Times.)—Londoners may get back on this year's coal strike a period during which they became subject to weather, and water. Such a situation, according to the press, is the byproduct of official action issued to Londoners by the city of mines today.

"Go to bed earlier and save light and fuel," it says.

Although Britain's consumption of coal and electric power has been more than cut in half since the beginning of the strike, it was stated today that a saving of an additional 25 per cent must be made. London, it was said, is in a situation, it was declared, could be running on one-fourth of its normal summer requirements of coal.

Turn Off Many Street Lamps.
The necessity of turning off street lamps in order to save coal is being urged in London today. Inspectors are going through the streets turning off street lamps. Inspectors are urged to go to bed early or too late.

Official watch is also being kept on factories and other places of business. Economy in the home cannot similarly be enforced, but it is being strongly urged. Official advice to householders is extending to such details as cold dishes can well be used on a wide scale at this period, and "hot water

PASSENGERS CALM AS LINER CATCHES AFIRE IN MID-OCEAN

New York, May 28.—(By the New York Times.)—While passengers in the main dining saloon looked calmly on, the sailing of the liner Benicapa while the third largest liner on the coast, carrying 1,194 passengers, was midway of the trip from Cherbourg, which ended today.

During the dinner hour on Tuesday night there was a sudden explosion above the heads of the diners and sheets of flame erupted from the wood-paneled ceiling. Momentary excitement was quickly subdued by ship's officers and diners near the fire caused by the fire.

Amidst passengers dining when the first fire broke out were Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan, King Gilbey, vice president of Gilbey Brothers department store, and John E. Dorkendorf, president of the American Diamond line.

for baths should be cut to the minimum of necessity.

No Mine Pence in Sight.
Meanwhile although three days from now the government's offer of $15,000,000 new subsidy more for the coal industry will be withdrawn, neither the owners nor miners have yet replied to Baldwin's letter of last Saturday with new proposals. The owners still offer an eight-hour day and will accept no compromise. They hold the opinion that the miners, if secret ballot was to be taken, would vote for an eight-hour day if there was no reduction of wages.

A reduction of 5 shillings in strike pay was made in Derbyshire coal field today, and in some other districts local funds have been entirely exhausted.

TEMPLARS GREET BEAUSEANT WITH ELABORATE RITES

World Touring Banner to Stay Here 8 Months.

Ceremonies comparable to those attending the crusades of medieval times took place last night at Guyon's ballroom, Crawford avenue and Washington boulevard, when 1,100 Knights Templar participated in the presentation of the International Traveling Bauseant to Shalom commandery No. 54 of Oak Park, by Bethlehem commandery No. 13 of Seattle, Wash. The Bauseant is a replica of the silver banner carried by the crusaders to Jerusalem in 1099.

While the massed bands of the two commanderies played "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and a picked guard of 200 knights formed a lane with swords raised, down the center of the ballroom, the black and white banner emblazoned with the Star of Bethlehem superimposed on a white matted cross was borne down the aisle of crossed blades to the dais, where Sir Knight James N. Hamill, commander of Bethlehem commandery, presented it to Sir Knight Harry J. Gardiner, commander of Shalom commandery, in whose charge it will rest for eight months. At the end of the time the Bauseant will be passed up to a chosen commandery in another state as a further step in its tour.

Purpose of Banner's Travels.
The purpose of its travels is to create a Christian band of knighthood among the Knights Templar. It will visit every country except Italy. The banner started on its trip in 1921, from Cirene, precursor, No. 29, K. T. of Toronto, Ont. Since then it has traveled 5,000 miles, remaining at commanderies at Buffalo, New York; Philadelphia, Washington, D. C.; Madison, O., where it stayed while Warren G. Harding was President; Hollywood, Cal.; Portland, Ore.; Victoria, B. C.; and Seattle, where it was brought here yesterday.

The Bauseant is awarded by one commandery to another for exemplary work in Knight Templar affairs, the body in whose keeping it shall be passed on. It is estimated that within fifty years it will have traversed every country in the world except Italy.

Of two colors, black and white, the Bauseant signifies all things terrible to the infidel and everything fair and favorable to the Christian.

125 Come from Seattle.
The Seattle delegation, comprising 125 knights as a guard of honor to the Bauseant, arrived at 2:20 p. m. yesterday from the Chicago and North western railroad. It was met at the Oak Park avenue station by 400 members of the Oak Park commandery. A parade down the avenue ended at St. William's, where the Bauseant was placed in the hands of the commandery.

Following that ceremony, the procession marched back to the lodge rooms at 127 North Oak Park avenue, where a reception was held for the visiting knights. Sir Knight William J. McFie, president of the village, made the official welcome.

Among the leading Templars who attended the ceremonies last night and yesterday afternoon were William L. Sharp, deputy grand commander of the grand encampment of the United States; John Paul Hobbs, grand commander of Illinois; Charles H. Collins, past grand-master of the great preceptory of Canada; John W. Wright, grand master of the Chrysa preceptory; Toronto; and George Swain, 32 years old, of Elmhurst, Ill., first commander of Shalom commandery.

BERLIN BUREAU TO GIVE ADVICE ON WEDDED LIFE

Berlin, May 28.—(By the New York Times.)—The first municipal bureau for giving advice on matrimonial eugenics will be opened in Berlin June 1. Married persons and those contemplating marriage may be advised as to their physical fitness for wedded life and parenthood.

Those whose health is up to standard will be given a certificate to that effect as provided in a recent decree of the Prussian minister of welfare. However, the findings of examinations must be held secret by the bureau. Staff doctors and clerks will be paid by the city and applicants will not be put to any expense. This will be the first real test of eugenics to be tried in Germany.

HURT IN TWO STORY FALL.
Arthur Sullivan, 34 years old, was seriously injured yesterday when he fell from the second story of the old Adams Express company building at 25 West Adams street. The building is being demolished.

Davis Again Seeks Kansas Nomination for Governor

Wichita, Kan., May 28.—(By the New York Times.)—John M. Davis, former governor of Kansas, who was tried and acquitted twice of charges of corrupting the pardon power of the executive office, announced formally tonight that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for reelection. Efforts of Mr. Davis to obtain from the state convention a specific endorsement of his administration met with a rebuff.

Eugenia Kelly Davis to Wed Peruvian Vice Consul.
New York, May 28.—(By the New York Times.)—A marriage license was issued today to Mrs. Eugenia Kelly Davis, whose elopement in 1916 with Al Davis, cabaret dancer, caused her widespread notoriety, and Clement Hallen, Peruvian vice consul at Baltimore. The couple said the marriage probably would take place in about two weeks.

NAB RICH YOUTH FOR QUITTING HIS BRIDE OF A DAY

Six weeks ago Milton Porte, 17 years old, left the home of his wealthy parents at 1817 Foster avenue to marry an 18 year old girl. Their elopement followed a brief courtship at Nicholas Senn High school, where both were students.

A day after they had been married, Porte is alleged to have left his wife, Elsie, who had lived with her parents at 4712 Magnolia avenue. Mrs. Porte obtained a warrant charging non-support in the Town Hall court and yesterday Porte was arrested by Sgt. Charles Rick of the Summerdale police station.

He was taken to the station and will be arraigned this morning in the Court of Domestic Relations.

BUSINESS ENTERS UPON JUNE WITH FEARS ALLAYED

BY O. A. MATHER.

The world of business and finance enters June, which is regarded as the turn of the year, with most of the fears of recent months allayed and a glimmer of optimism prevailing. The picture of world trade and a high level of activity in trade and industry has become clearer.

Yesterday produced a variety of reports to support the belief that future developments should lead toward the favorable, barring disappointing harvest results. The commerce department reported increased business activity throughout the country during the earlier part of May, compared with a year ago. There was larger distribution of merchandise, greater receipts for wheat and cotton, larger awards for highway construction and higher production of coal and steel.

Steel Outlook Promising.
The steel companies are expected to show good earnings for the second quarter. Virtually all producers had a better volume of business this month than in April, while next month the outlook for individual companies should be rosy. Recovery in the automobile industry is indicated by the fact that Detroit's industrial employment increased 12 persons last week, according to figures for two weeks of the month. The total now is 15,450 persons, compared with 15,327 a year ago.

With many of the railroads reporting record earnings, May was a better month because a poorer month and because Memorial day will not reduce traffic this year to the extent that the Easter holidays did last month. "Crossed" railroads for the first three weeks of this month are available for most of the roads and show a larger proportionate increase over a year ago than did the first weeks of April.

85,000,000 Probable Earnings.
There is every prospect that if total operating income for the railroads and money reached $75,000,000, the month probably will show $85,000,000 based on earnings of 67 roads, showing $11,000,000 a year ago. It is calculated that total income for all class 1 roads will reach $110,000,000 against $105,000,000 in April, 1925. Such income for last month would represent an annual yield of 1.25 per cent on the rate, making probable valuation of $121,000,000 at the end of May.

The petroleum industry is buoyed by the expanding demand for gasoline, declining production of crude oil, and higher prices for both crude and refined products. The domestic demand for gasoline is running about 20 per cent above a year ago, while exports for the first four months of this year ran about 22 per cent above last year. Exports last month were the largest in record.

Summarizing current trade and reviewing the month, the mercantile reviews report little change for better or worse.

WOULD EQUALIZE TRUNK LINE AND STATES' RATES
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 28.—(Special)—State freight rates should be equalized to the level of interstate rates in western trunk line, according to a report before existing interstate rates are advanced, a P. H. Hayes, traffic director of the Chicago Association of Commerce, declared in the weekly session of the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

"We have no objection to a P. H. Hayes' statement, but we do object to increasing interstate rates until intrastate rates are advanced as they are generally lower than are interstate rates in western trunk line territory," he said.

NEW MAY WHEAT UP, OLD DOWN IN ERRATIC MARKET

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

May wheat fluctuated in an extremely erratic manner within a range of 4 1/2 cents on the new style and 8 cents on the old, the latter being weak. Old May broke from a high of $1.14 to a low of $1.10, and closed at $1.10 1/2, losing 1/2 cent for the day, while new May gained 1/2 cent and closed at $1.16 1/2 to $1.17, the high figure of the day. The spread between the two styles was 1 1/2 cents at the close, the widest of the season. Leading sellers of the deferred delivery on Thursday were the best buyers yesterday, and the finish was at gains of 1/2 cent with July $1.24, $1.17 1/2, and September at $1.23 1/2, $1.17 1/2, and $1.23 1/2, selling against offers was a factor in checking the upturn. The action of the May had less effect on the deferred futures than for some time.

While the corn market rallied in sympathy with wheat and closed lower to higher, the deferred delivery on Thursday was the best buyers yesterday, and the finish was at gains of 1/2 cent with July $1.24, $1.17 1/2, and September at $1.23 1/2, $1.17 1/2, and $1.23 1/2, selling against offers was a factor in checking the upturn. The action of the May had less effect on the deferred futures than for some time.

Light Trade in May Wheat. Trade in May wheat was extremely light, with purchases and sales almost entirely in small amounts, at order for $5,000 on either side being an exception. There was extremely poor support on the old style which declined sharply, but scattered shorts bought the new on the break.

Local operators, who were bearish, made several efforts to depress the July wheat, but there was aggressive buying on the decline. Later the market became active and some of the early sellers took the buying side on the Bryant crop report, indicating that winter wheat in parts of Nebraska and Kansas had suffered materially from recent dry weather and that crop estimates might have to be cut down, especially in Nebraska. The prospect of the private reports on winter wheat showing a lower condition than of May 1, in the face of the general glowing accounts received of late, was a shock to the bear, and it was noticeable that the July was little affected by the action of the May throughout the day.

Shorts Buy Corn Grains. Short covering furnished the bulk of the support in both corn and oats, the late strength in wheat being entirely responsible for a rally after an early break. Outside interest in small, dry markets easily influenced. Some damage was done to the new oats crop in parts of Kansas and Nebraska by recent dry weather. Weather conditions are favorable for corn. Country offerings to arrive were fairly liberal, but actual purchases small. The east continues to buy sparingly.

Country Places Are Opened for Saturday to Tuesday Holiday

BY NANCY R.

With the arrival of this delightfully long holiday weekend there is a spurt of activity round and about Chicago. Country places already open are bursting with Saturday-to-Tuesday visitors. A number of dinners, luncheons and teas are scheduled for these three days. The spirit of festivity is in the air. The John Borden, who are comfortably settled in the A. A. Sprague house in Lake Forest, have Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hutchins for guests over Memorial day, and are giving a dinner party this evening. The Charles G. Cushman are also dinner hosts tonight. That attractive young bride couple, the "Kins" Salebarys, are going to spend the weekend in Lake Forest with Mr. and Mrs. Farley Hopkins who returned this week from a visit with the Charles Wilmans in Moline.

The summer season is being formally opened this evening by two Lake Forest clubs. Onwenta and Knollwood. The first dance of the year in the outdoor pavilion will be held at the former, the largest dance being the dance being given at the club by the Ezra Warners for their daughter, Jane.

One of the gayest parties of the week will be the Sunday supper party which the Inalls are having tomorrow at their beautiful great place in Libertyville, to which have been bidden any number of the young friends of Barbara and her fiancé, the fair Adelaide Pierce.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life" column. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Shipping a Year.
My younger sister and I went to the theater and, as I wanted to get in for a dime, I told her to get the tickets while I would wait inside. As she handed the doorman the tickets he turned to me and asked, "How old are you?"

I was extremely nervous, but replied, "I'm 12 and will be 14 next month."

After a roar of laughter he said, "I knew you were 13."

Just then I realized what I had said. Embarrassed! Decide for yourself. He let me through for a dime, but never again will I encounter what I did that day.

All Alone.

My most embarrassing moment happened yesterday at a piano recital. The first girl to play was a friend of mine, so I clapped loudly when she was through. Imagine my embarrassment when all eyes were turned on me and I saw no one else was clapping. There was no one to applaud, afterwards learned.

Advise Women

to adopt new hygienic method and retain freshness this way; true protection; discards like tissue.

LARGELY on medical advice, women are abandoning the old "sanitary pad" for a new way that supplies certainty with positive protection.

Sheer frocks and ill-timed social engagements no longer remain as worries. Lost days are fewer, and health better.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And odorless—ends ALL fear of offending.

✓ As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the risk of old ways.

He Loved Her Until He Discovered She Earned More Than He

BY DORIS BLAKE

"I go with a young man of whom I am more than fond. He has told me how he feels toward me, and it's enough to say, 'I love you.' I'm extremely happy. But there's one thing, but in love young dreams—there's a but. I found out I was getting more salary than he. I never mentioned the fact to him, but I knew mine was the larger of the two. But in an accidental way he made the discovery himself. It does not set right with him.

"I have pretty clothes. But who shouldn't? He hinted he could not afford for me what I was able to earn for myself. But I live at home, make all my own clothes, and consequently have more money to spend than many girls. I don't spend it all, though. Half of my pay goes in the bank every week. Part of what's left goes for board money, and I have the balance. I don't think it is right of me to hold my salary against him. If I flaunted it in his face it would be different. But I did not want to hurt his feelings, so never mentioned it. Can't he be made to see in some way that it is not the salary that counts? I wouldn't trade him for all the high-salaried men I know, and I want him to know it. I'm a girl."

But it being a problem, and one not likely to be reduced while the economic stress is what it is, why not look it in the face and say, if you are a young man like "Fuzzie's" friend, "My girl is earning more than I am right now. But five years' ten years' hence her present salary will look like pin money alongside what I will then be earning. She is an industrious girl and an economical one. She puts half her money in the bank, so when she marries she will have that all for her. Every woman likes to have a little money of her very own. Then

The market place is an institution as old as history. During the course of time it has assumed many strange forms. There were the caravans of the East trading with nomadic tribes in the desert. Then came the colorful riot of small shops known as bazaars in the cities of the Orient. Then with the development of great sailing vessels, sea traders brought their wares to every corner of the earth. But the most efficiently working, the most comprehensive market place that the world has yet seen are the Want Ad Sections of great metropolitan newspapers.

Rambling Through the WANT-ADS

"I SEE in The Tribune—" or "The Tribune says, this morning—" is a remark that is made thousands of times every day in Chicago. Thousands of people put down the paper with the idea that they have read it all. But have they?

You haven't read your daily or Sunday Tribune until you have looked through the Want Ads. Even if you are not interested in buying or selling anything at the present time, read the Want Ads. Besides their immense utility as a market place, they are a gold mine of curious information. Here in the buying and selling, in the hiring and the trading you will find life and color, romance and drama.

Read the Want Ads every morning on your way to work. You may find something for sale that you did not know you needed. But read them for the same reason that you read a good novel—for their deep human appeal.

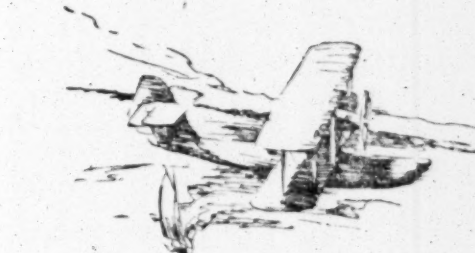

Here are a few examples of Want Ads, rich in human interest, that may be found in The Tribune almost any day. Under "Help Wanted" we find this notice:

EDITOR
WANTED BY NATIONALLY KNOWN PUBLISHERS OF CHILDREN'S BOOKS, GIFT BOOKS AND GREETING CARDS, THE P. T. VOLLAND COMPANY, JOLIET, ILLINOIS, AN HOUR'S RIDE FROM CHICAGO. POSITION PRIMARILY REQUIRES ABILITY TO EDIT MANUSCRIPTS FOR PUBLICATION. DETECT IDEAS IN WEAR MANUSCRIPTS. ASSISTANT EDITORS IN REWRITING. AN UNDERSTANDING OF CHILDREN'S PSYCHOLOGY. SUMMARIZE YOUR QUALIFICATIONS, GIVING AGE, IN LETTER ADDRESSED TO MR. G. B. VOLLAND, JOLIET, ILLINOIS.

Many a writer of books, now nationally famous, has had a start less conspicuous than this one. Who can tell what the young man who receives his baptism of fire in this position may do in later years? Publishing houses and newspapers have always been the best training ground for authorship, and even old Bill Shakespeare got his start by doctoring broken-down melodramas!

Then in the column headed "Boats, Yachts, etc.," we find the following:

WILL EXCHANGE FLYING BOAT FOR GOOD sail of power boat. Read Will Brown Co. 1214 North Dearborn St. Evanston, Ill. 6000. 1702

There is a story here, all right. The doughty sailor of the air decides that water sailing is sport enough and so he leaves the upper air in undisputed possession of the birds. A "missing" motor over a bit of choppy sea, a forced landing and maybe a ducking in the icy lake are behind this item. Anyway, many a good flyer would gladly exchange his harp for a bill of sale on "a good sail or power boat." Happy days and happy landings! Here's a Want Ad that will appeal to fathers and mothers:

OWNER OF BEAUTIFUL UP-TO-DATE mountain summer home near Colorado Springs, Colo. will board two healthy children and their nurse during June, July, Aug. $300 per month. Laundry extra. Milk from local cows, crystal clear water from Pike Peak region, fresh fruit and vegetables in abundance. Climate superb. Excellent cook, ten years with the family. Write Mrs. Wm. E. 4458 N. Dearborn, Chicago.

Here is a man of means who has, perhaps, no children of his own. He and his wife are willing to share their beautiful summer home in the mountains with two happy children, and their nurse, asking in return only that their actual expenses be defrayed. A summer of mountain air, outdoors, sunshine and good things to eat will give somebody's two youngsters a large entry on the health side of the ledger.

And here's a briefly worded offer from a man in the trucking business:

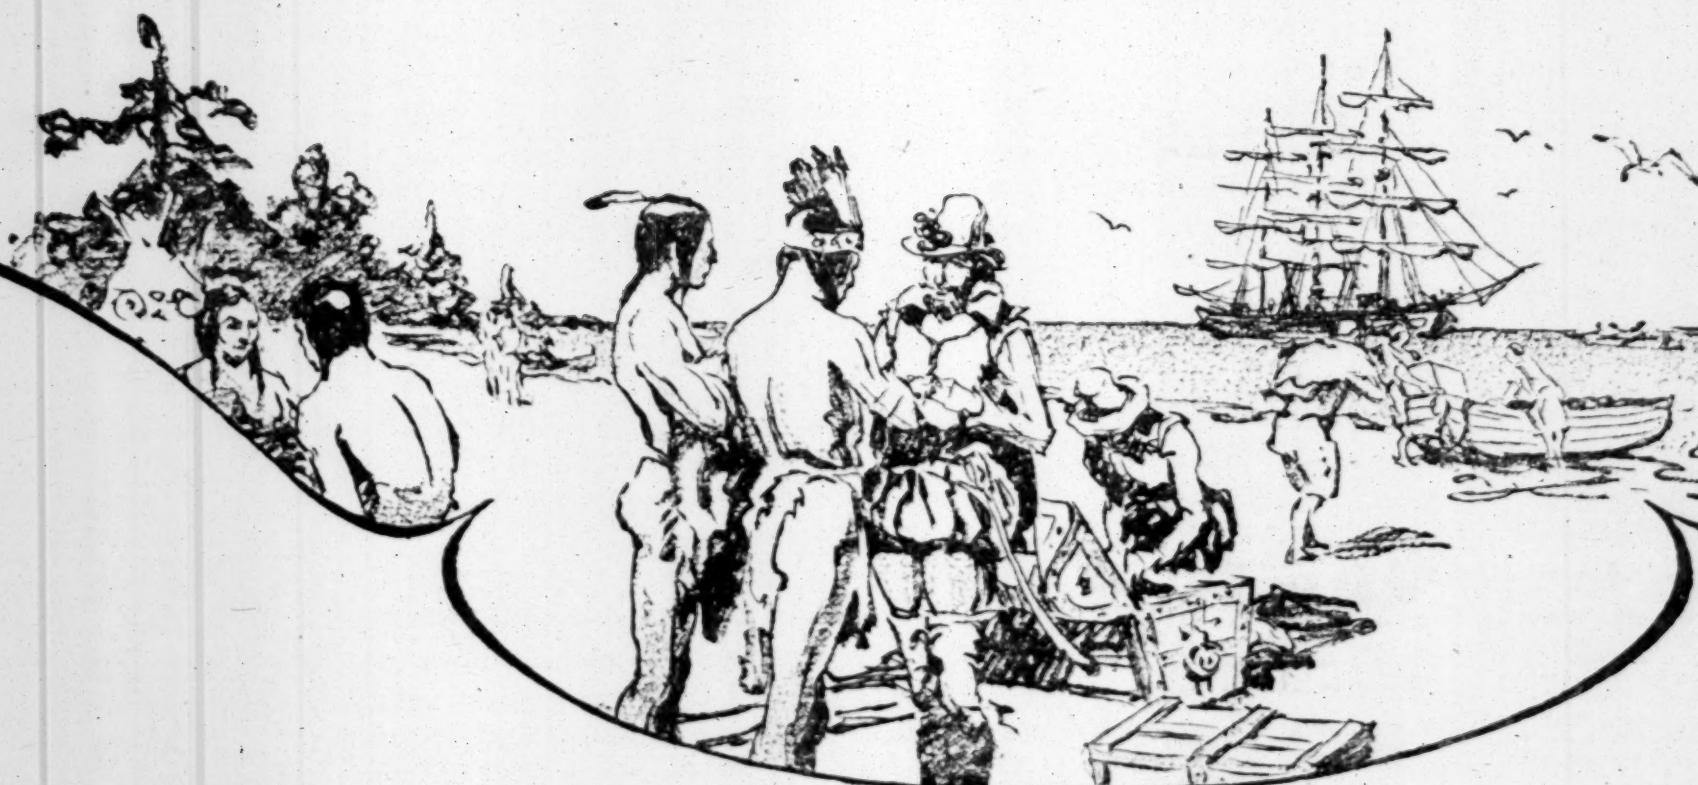

WANT A RETURN LOAD FROM 400 miles north in Michigan to Chicago. Phone ALexand 2200 or write W. J. Hale, 708 E. 47th St.

Some one moving furniture or merchandise to this far point in Michigan has chartered the services of a truck—one way. The enterprising business man who owns the trucking business realizes that it is not profitable to let his motor return that long distance empty. He can afford to make a very attractive price on the return shipment, and some one will have his goods hauled at a bargain. They both profit through the use of Tribune Want Ads.

MAD POETESS OF LONDON AND ODD BARONET DEAD

Both Spurned Benefits of Modern Life.

(Copyright 1926 by The New York Times.) LONDON, May 19.—Miss Alice Mills, mad poetess, one of those peculiarities was to shoot four hours during the night, was found dead at her residence near London last night by the police.

Sir Duncan Campbell, eccentric baronet, who as far as any man may do, was said to live in the past and whom even his friends had never seen smile died in a taxicab after becoming ill in a taxi.

Requests are to be held on the deaths of these old people, many of whose peculiarities were similar.

Unbalanced by Zeppelin Raids. Miss Mills, who was a writer of verse, a woman of wide education and a linguist, had been mentally unstable ever since the Zeppelin raids on London. She had refused to pay her rates, as a consequence of which the district council removed much valuable furniture.

She refused to pay her gas and water bills, so her house had been in darkness for years except for candles, and she had been forced to obtain her water from a roadside horse trough.

Didn't Miss Court Functions. Of Sir Duncan Campbell it is also related that he lived and worked only by candle light, but that was because he refused to allow the "modern aberrations" of gas and electricity in his own rooms, though his housekeeper had both. By the light of three or four candles he would have his meals and pursue the hermetic researches for which he had a passion much as Don Quixote pursued those of knight errantry. His baronetcy, which in 20 years he had trimmed Sir Duncan's hair only twice and that on time he insisted on keeping his hat on for fear his locks might be short, short.

Though he lived aloof from the world, Sir Duncan attended royal garden parties and similar functions with the greatest regularity. He wore a rain coat, covered with candle grease, which appeared to be about 25 years old. He was hereditary keeper of the royal castle and once entered a London barber shop with the robes in which he was to attend a coronation wrapped in a newspaper and the ends hanging out.

FARM AND GARDEN

It seldom pays to start flower seeds in boxes that are to be kept out on open porches in Chicago and towns along the lake much before the last of May when the weather is cool and late as it has been this spring. Building flower boxes and getting the seed started makes a good Saturday afternoon's job for the city man who has been working in the garden.

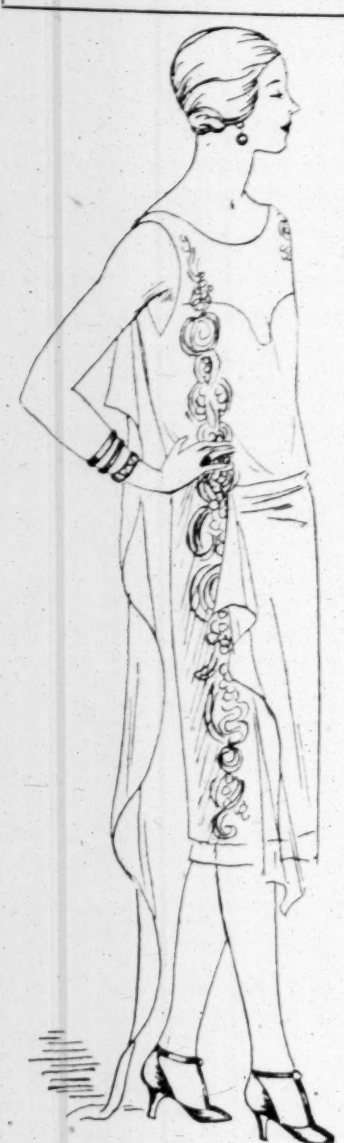

Almost any flowers ordinarily used in porch boxes will be safe in the open from now on. Make the boxes out ofypress if you want them to last a long time. In the sun most of the boxes that are in the sun most of the day, Geraniums, heliotropes, nasturtiums, and petunias are favorites in Chicago. Coleus and croton, foliage plants, need plenty of sun. For trailing plants use English, German, or Kenilworth ivy. For boxes in the shade plant Boston ferns, cordylines, silk oak, small palms, red and tuberous begonias.

Bore a dozen or more holes in the bottom of the box and cover the bottom with broken crockery or coarse sand to permit drainage and aeration of the soil. Then fill the boxes with rich, black dirt. Leaf mold and sand mixed in with the soil helps. Set the boxes in far enough on the railings that the water will not drip in them from the eave or porch floor above.

Paris Reverts to the Classic Line

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondent.)—This dance frock is a paradox. Although running at loose ends, it achieves a certain dignity. The fact of it is that those loose ends—otherwise draperies—are but part of Cyber's attempt to adapt the classic to our modern taste.

Here is but one of the many chiffon models which are offered to your consideration for the June proms. Of yellow chiffon, it is made with a natural waist line achieved by draping across the front of long fingerlike petals over the wrap-around type and a jabotlike drape marks the end of the wrap-around. This is balanced by another drape in the back which falls from the shoulders to below the hem. An under-slip of self-colored chiffon is cut so as to produce a yoke effect. As for the embroidery, this is done in the shape of a long side panel done in diamantes and crystals. A touch of the embroidery on the opposite side just at the yoke.

Period frocks continue in their same old unswerving way. Some of the newest are of more or less the same old type, but in fact, of the most of a foundation of lace. The lace is then sometimes repeated in a tight fitting corsete trimmed with the moire. Another favorite is of more or less the same old type, but in fact, of the most of a foundation of lace. The lace is then sometimes repeated in a tight fitting corsete trimmed with the moire.

Some of these latter retain the revers on the bodice extending from neck line to waist.

$200 Theater Seats Seen in New York as Boosting War Rages

BY BURNS MANTLE

New York, May 19.—(Special.)—Ray Goetz started it by charging $25 a seat for the Raquel Meller premiere.

George White, being a smart showman, followed with the announcement that he would charge $50 a seat for the first two rows of orchestra seats at the opening of his "Scandals" in June.

Goetz got the $25 for Meller. Got $27.50, in fact, with tax. And they who are wise in the current psychology of Broadway agree there are enough funny old gentlemen, with plenty of money to fill more than the first two rows of any theater at any premiere in which there are kicking girls. So White will probably get the $50.

Naturally with White asking $50, the Shuberts, importing "The Merry Widow" with Albert De Courville, will want at least $60, and probably $65, for the first row.

And Flo Ziegfeld, being in competition with an enemy of both the Shuberts and White, is just as likely as not to jump to $100, with $125 asked for the more exposed side seats.

Then in July, if Earl Carroll is still out of jail, he will probably bring out a new "Vanities," trimmed with plumbago, a la Joyce, and feel quite justified in putting a price of $200 on the seats with tub on his night club seats at the edge of the Carroll stage.

Hold Last Rites Today for Frank E. Goodnow

Funeral services for Frank E. Goodnow, electrical engineer for the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and member of Mayor Dever's radio commission, will be held from the chapel of the Memorial Park cemetery, Evanston, at 2 p. m. today. Mr. Goodnow died Thursday after an illness of several months. He was 43 years old.

He was a member of the Western Society of Engineers and an executive committee member in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. A widow, two sons, William and Frank, his mother, a sister, Mrs. L. D. Swan of Racine, Wis., and a brother, Howard, survive him.

PRESIDENT AND
PRINCE PRINCE
MONITOR MAKDedicate Statue
John Ericsson.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—American democracy and the memory of John Ericsson, a migrant Swede, whose genius bore forth the Monitor of civil war, and whose patriotism made him a "great American."

On the banks of the Potomac, a stone's throw of the statue to Lincoln, President Coolidge a brilliant gathering of diplomats American officials bared their heads this afternoon while an imposing memorial to the great Swedish American inventor and patriot was unveiled.

Princess Unveils Statue.

The Crown Princess of Sweden, assisted by her husband, Crown Prince Adolfus, pulled the cord that the covering from the plaster of the sculpturing, which is yet to be pleted. The dedicatory ceremony made brilliant by the presence of prince and his staff in full court dress was attended by thousands of Americans of Swedish origin.

Both the President and the Crown Princess recalled the Swedish throne recalled speeches the accomplishments of Ericsson in the critical period of civil war, and the Crown Prince pressed the hope that the bond of friendship between the United States and Sweden shall constantly strengthened for the mutual benefit of both nations.

The President praised Ericsson his Americanism, asserting that honor him most because we can say he was a great American.

Seen as Aid to Lennox.

The President cited Senator Len (Rep., Wis.), as one of the publicists of the Swedish race who served his country well. His reference to the senator caused a ripple of pride to run through the ranks of politicians present, who saw in action a reversal of the President's recent attitude of not living at the Republican primaries to those have served him.

The crown prince presented President to the stand reserved the guests of honor. His unusual tall form was enhanced in height a great dress helmet surmounted waving yellow plumes. A broad of bright blue encircled his body, wore no sign arms. The crown prince was dressed in a mauve dress and wore a light tan straw hat.

National Salute Fired.

As the crown princess unveiled monument, pigeons were released the flags of both nations were raised. The minesweeper No. 40, with its ord in the North sea during the war, lying a few yards off shore, the national salute as a profound signal flags were run up alongside and above the statue of the man who "cheese boat on a raft" revolution naval warfare.

About 500 Chicago Swedish-Americans were on the speaker's stand scattered in the audience. A special train carrying several hundred artists this morning, bringing the members of the John Ericsson Republic league, Chicago and Illinois people on the stand included Senator Mrs. Deussen, Representative Carl Chindblom, chairman of the John Ericsson memorial committee, and Chindblom; Col. Oscar N. Robert Lake Forest, Ill.; Austin J. Lindstr A. G. Whiting, Edward C. West and C. G. Axcell.

Address of President.

"It is one of the glories of country that we all have the privilege of being Americans," President Coolidge said. "Some of us were here of ancestry that has lived here for generations. Others of us were born abroad and brought here at a tender age, or have come to the shores as a result of mature choice. But when once our feet have touched this soil, when once we have made our home, wherever our place of birth, whatever our race, we are blended in one common country."

"We all stand on an equality of rights and of opportunity, each doing just honor from their own work and accomplishments. It is not, for the purpose of setting one person above another that we assemble here today to do reverence to the memory of a great son of Sweden, but rather to glory in the name of John Ericsson and his race as a prominent example of the superb contribution which has been made by many different nationalities to the cause of our country."
